

100 (D) Some Assembly Required.

To understand how valuable, you truly are to God & His plan & to use the God instilled gifts that you have been flooded with, you need to see that you were created by & for a greater purpose than you may realize on your own. To fully understand this you may need to readjust your thinking & thought processes, while re-evaluating mistaken beliefs, that you may have learned, from otherwise trusted sources, which may have mistakenly led you astray from some of God's absolute truths, as we were all created with some assembly required & who & what we allowed to be part of this process, played a vital role in the forming of our future, often cemented, thoughts, beliefs & traditions & in getting us to where we are at in our beliefs; be it good, bad, or indifferent.

It's important to realize that we did not create ourselves, though we did have a say in the building process, as we chose what to hold onto as truth & what to discard as trash, which often was decided more by feelings, family, friends & traditions, rather than on good, solid, proven truths. We were created through God's love to know the truth, yet we were assembled through worldly & personal ideas, beliefs & choices, which allowed our minds to perceive, that what we think, feel, supposedly know & believe, is truth, but we may have mistaken the feelings & ideas of real, as being true; as feelings & beliefs can be real & yet not be true, e.g. have you ever just felt dead tired, or like you've been hit by a truck; so were you dead, or hit? What about, have you ever believed that God, or another, was ignoring, or hated you? Again; Feelings & beliefs, no matter how strong, or believable, do not equal truths! God has created you, to be so much more than what your thoughts, feelings & beliefs tell you that you are, so it's time to stop listening to what the world "knows", or says about you & to start becoming the person, that God has created you to be.

Jesus said; that if you abide in my Word, you are My disciple & you will know the truth & the truth will set you free, John 8:31. It is time to prove God & to seek true freedom, through some thought-provoking Godly truths, while proving your way through all that God has given us in these words, some of which will go against what you want to hear, or what you have believed, but we must remember that truth is truth & is what God wants for us & what we should want for ourselves as well, even it shows that we were wrong, which can & does happen & is fully acceptable, as not being the end of the world. So you may have believed wrong, so what, get over yourself, learn the truth & move on, a little more knowledgeable, which is a good thing.

So, now if you are ready, or not & choose to believe it, or not; like it, or not; or listen to it, or not; I challenge you to hear God's biblical truth & to stop just accepting opinions, traditions, inferences & personal beliefs, as truth, as if you truly want to represent the truth, as we all have a Godly duty to do, then you must learn to deeply reexamine all information, regardless of how trusted the source that you heard it from, before just accepting it, just because you were taught it, heard it & learned it from a religious leader, or friend.

Now if you believe that you can leave your pride & ego behind, to be truly challenged, then say a prayer & get ready for some deep growth into God's word & truth, while understanding that at times it may feel like you are standing alone, or that the world is against you, or that you are being judged & at times you may feel lost & confused & all these have one thing in common, they are feelings, which can cause others to go against God & His truths, but feelings do not equal truths. So ask yourself, do you want to be known by God as living by & following feelings, or men's beliefs, friends beliefs, your beliefs, religious beliefs, or God's truths? As you do truly get to decide & then get to be held responsible for your choice, which will in turn, effect all your life choices.
