

101 K. Unimportant arguments.

Trying to get people to give God 1% of their day, appears harder than getting them to argue for hours, months, or years about anything to do with God?

Why argue & try to make important, that which is not important, such as unproven, or untested personal beliefs, or unknowable facts, or even known facts that still make you no more important than any other person.

Love is what's important & right, as no one has knowledge or smarts, other than what God allowed, or ordained, which means God is the only knowledgeable one, but He uses us, to share all He knows, with each other, to see who will grow in Godly wisdom, knowing that we are no better than any other, or who will grow in satanic pride, believing what they have learned has come from their self?

e.g. Is the world 6000 years old, or millions of years old? Christians & scientists can argue unknowable beliefs until Christ comes back & the only thing that will matter to Jesus, is that they argued with, instead of loved each other, as He commanded, not asked, but commanded.

In the bible it says in Genesis 1:1, In the beginning God created the heaven & the earth. In 1:2 it says, the earth was without form & void & darkness was upon the face of the deep. 1:3 says & God said, Let there be light & there was light.

Now there is no way for anyone, but God, to know how much time elapsed between Genesis 1:1, when God created the earth & 1:3, when He gave it light. It could've been a short time, or billions of years? I don't think God created the earth without form, I believe something catastrophic happened on earth, like the fall of a top Angel, lucifer, who was 1 of God's top angels, as Lucifer, means morning star, Isaiah 14:12.

He was the prince of angels, the bearer of light. He was perfect in wisdom & beauty, a spectacle of flawlessness. But this was not enough for him. For He wanted to sit on the mount of God & be like God, but none can be like God.

But what I believe about the age of earth is an unprovable & unimportant belief, as it has nothing to do with today & loving others now, or glorifying God in the way we treat others today! It's good to learn from the past, but not to argue it, or drag it around & into the future.

We know what we can do today, to make our world a little better than yesterday, Love others a little more, regardless of your, or their past, or beliefs, or even truths. Do what Jesus did for you, even though you didn't earn it, or deserve it; Love, Forgive & let the past stupidities, errors, hurts, hurt feelings, misunderstandings & any other negatives that drag the past up, go, gone & say good-bye to it & move forward in & with love, as we are all hurting & all need each other, whether we admit it or not. I honestly do love & pray for you all. Remember youarenotaloneyouareamazing.com