

103 B. Abortion & who it truly hurts.

As a Christian I do not advocate for, nor condone the act of abortion & surely do not condone those who perform, or lobby for them, though I do pray for them & love them as God commands us. I fully believe in God's laws & grace & I do believe that we are supposed to be under some form of free will, while on this earth & while we are to judge deeds, without judging persons, many Christians are missing the forest for the trees, while sinfully wrong in judging others for their unGodly decisions.

So how might this affect Christians, who may be blinded to not seeing the forest for the trees & who may be spreading truth, without love & possibly condemning themselves by casting stones, instead of salvation, at a truly lost group?

Just an f.y.i., In 2019 there were over 600,000 abortions, out of 64 million females from 15-44 yrs old. With 57% in their 20's, 4% in 40's & 9% as teens.

Now my whole life I have heard every argument for the innocent baby that is lost, which is a sad thing. I have heard of every effort of those who seek to save the baby, which is a good goal & I have heard every argument about the woman's (i.e. mother's) rights over the fetus' (baby's), but there's something huge being missed here, from a true God loving, God serving, Christ believing Christian perspective.

I do believe that abortion is murder & is a sin; (just my opinion, as many say the bible doesnt specify if a fetus is a living human, though I believe it does as the holy spirit told Mary that a baby, the living Christ, would be placed inside her, to be born into the world as a human, which I believe shows that a fetus is a living baby?) but that's not the argument we're looking at today.

So if abortion is a sin, remember that Christ said, that all have sinned & fallen short; & to let him who has not sinned to cast the 1st stone; I also believe Christ, when He said that hatred, is equal to murder, as it is the same as murder, in the heart & I believe that we are to uphold each other, especially those who are lost & facing being cast away into the fire, as they do not know that through repentance, that they too can be forgiven & saved & join in eternity with Christ & all God's children, including the spirit of the babies, who were cheated out of life as they were lost to abortion.

Now I do believe that all human life starts at the spark of conception, just as Jesus' did & I am not saying to not whole heartedly keep advocating against this travesty, but I am saying that it is time to open up your "mind of Christ", that you claim & to see what He commands on this.

You see all the babies, even those "aborted" by men, have not been aborted by their true Father, God & they will see eternity with Christ. But as so many people are focusing on & seeing only the aborted trees of life, or saved by God babies, they are missing the rapidly dying forest, that truly needs Christian evangelists to save them from the fires that they are facing, if they are not truly saved.

So though the babies are given a pass, the mothers having these abortions are the forest of lost, broken individuals that we are commanded to love, as Christ loves us & to lead them to a relationship with Him, remembering that we were not put here to judge, but to love & to be judged by God alone, for how well we filled the shoes of love, given to us.

Now by not judging, or condemning another's rights, doesn't mean we accept, nor advocate 4 non- Christian beliefs, or actions, as we all know that just because something is legal, does not mean that it is okay, especially in God's eyes & we were put here to let God fight for His children, through us, knowing that He allows our laws 2 B in place, but with, or without men's laws, we know why we are here & should continue to bring God's love to all, who will accept & follow it, regardless of their past free will opinions.

Many from this great forest of Gods beautiful mothers, even though they aborted a child, are still mother's & may be hurting, or may have been forced by another, or even by their own fears, young mind, or satan?, but the reason is not our business, unless they need to talk about it & we must, with Christ within us, B patient, caring, loving & be a good Godly role model & friend to lift these mothers up & to lead them to their & our Father who loves & will forgive them, as they are as much a part of His beautiful forest, as we are.

lets say a prayer & pray for all the mother's out there, who for whatever reason chose to have an abortion & let them know that they are loved & that God is wanting to hear from & forgive them, as He accepts & forgives them, for the same reason that He accepts & forgives us, sheer love through the power of Jesus Christ, Amen.
