

104.15. Truly Experiencing God.

Before getting into too many subjects & truths here, I do want to reiterate some very important key points on our findings & hope you can take the time to understand, believe & test & prove all that we will be sharing here. Pray for Christ to lead you through this & you may find yourself amazed at the possible life changes ahead, as you start truly experiencing God, from beginning, to a new beginning.

Remember that many will teach & many will listen, without validating what they heard & yet claim it to be of God, but have not personally truly tested it? God says to test all things, including those which bring unity, possibly through unified common false beliefs. i.e. Are you 100% sure that what you have been taught is God's unaltered truth & have you proven it yourself, by God's standards of truth.

Tens of Thousands of hours of study & prayer have gone into proving what I know about God & in sharing God's truths, there is also a much deeper message, for those who dare to seek it & test it, but before diving in, I will warn you; there may be some things here that you don't agree with & that's okay, it doesn't make either one of us wrong, as long as we are absolutely guaranteed, willing to risk our eternal life sure, that it is God that has given us the different way we see things, as we look at the things of God.

The biggest problem comes with the evil dividers of evil men, in our world, who are trying to hook everyone into believing, that any who think differently, than what they teach you to believe, are evil.

So to receive the goodness from the wisdom in these letters, you are going to need to find a maturity & truth, which is fading fast in this world, while remembering that we are not of this world, we are just passing through, on our way to something greater. Maturity here has to do with the development of a discerning adult mindset, that knows that people have the right to have their different beliefs respected; while being free of unsolicited, immature, faulty, hateful, sinful, opinionated, condemnation.

In other words, you are no better than any other & neither am I, regardless of political affiliation, religious affiliation, educational, or socioeconomic status, ethnicity, culture, or anything that may make you feel that you are different, than any other that God created, in His own image, as we are all who we are becoming in Christ, not who we were, or even who we are today & as such I can honestly say that I love all people & pray for all people & want all people, as my brothers & sisters in Christ; regardless of gender, skin tone, political, or religious choices, culture or ethnicity, as we are equal in God's eyes & should be in ours as well.

So again I am absolutely no better than any person on this planet, but I am better off than many, due to my relationship with God, which I truly have hopes for all to be able to fully experience, as we all need to learn to choose to love, as God commanded; even when the world is trying to teach us their false beliefs, their unvalidated truths, their religious traditions, or even their ideas to alienate those who don't bow down to their irrational acts, beliefs & opinions, which is as far from maturity & as close to eternal loneliness & evil selfishness, as anyone can get.

Choose today to step into a new you & to find a new mindset, focused on proving & sharing God's goodness & away from the hatred that the world is trying to infect all with & keep following these letters, for the many great life changing truths that will be coming & assisting you in positively changing yours & other's lives, through God's truths & ideals, for an awesome eternity.
